EVILS OF EXPANSION.

They Are Summed Up at the Liberal Congress.

A CHANGE TO IMPERIALISM

such a Step Would Mean to Uucle Sam, and Pursuits of War Take the Piace of Pursuits of Peace. Jordan's Address.

Omaha, Oct. 21.—A bold and unmisiakable argument against imperialism was made by President David Starr Jordan at the session of the liberal congress of religions and it was listened to by a crowded church.

Summed up, it was to the effect that a policy of expansion would make incumbent upon this country an expensive colonial system with all that implies a costly army and navy; that our government system would have to be iargely changed from American republicanism to British imperialism; that pursuits of war would take the place of the pursuits of peace; that it is not suited to this country; that the effects of living in the tropics is to degenerate the Anglo-Saxon character; that a better way is to preserve the friendship between this country and Great Britian and finally, that this nation staads for an ideal of individual citizenship, which is a higher purpose for humanity than national aggrandizement.

Brilliant Wedding at Covington Wednesday Evening-The Lovely Bride Well Known in Maysville.

[Cinelmnatl Enquirer.]

One of the most brilliant weddings of this season in Covington, Ky., was ce'e brated with due ceremony Wednesday evening at the First Presbyterian Church in that city. As "Old Trinity" is undergoing repairs, the Presbyterian Church was offered to the bride, who is an Episcopalian, and the marriage ceremony of Miss Mattie Lee Mannen, daughter of the late Lee Mannen, and Mr. Darwin Massie Stapp, of Mexico, was performed by Rev. Mr. Coupland, rector of St. John's P. E. Church.

The bride has been a reigning Kentucky belle, and is a young woman of John Wanamaker is evidently dis- great beauty. She was regal in her Empire gown of white satin, low corsage, "I have been a Republican since 1860, with a bertha of duchess lace. A soft tille veil, not very full, fell over her classic face, and the rich gown entraine.

One pleasing feature was the handsome widowed mother, dressed in pure white, who gave her daughter away with grace and dignity, but evident feeling.

The church was beautifully decorated by a florist, but the prie-dien was arranged by friends with unusual taste. The organist, Miss Mary T. Hall, an intimate friend of the bride, played a number of selections before the entrance of the bridal party. The maid of honor was the talented daughter of the late Judge Arthur.

The attendants were brilliant young matrons of the social world, the bride will follow, we must stand as one man, having officiated as maid of honor for them at their marriages. They were Mrs. Barker, formerly Virginia McGraw, of Louisville, and Mrs. Barbour, formerly Miss Forman, of Maysville. They were all gowned alike with white organdie and pink trimmings; both are noted for their personal charms. The ushers were prominent society men-Messrs. Will Hays, Dr. Kearns, Jr., Richard Ransom, Joe Creaghhead, Lewis Matthews, George Bruce Barker, of Louisville.

The groom is a prominent railroad man in the South, and a cultivated gentleman. His brother, Mr. Jacques Pierre Duvinage, of the City of Mexico, was best man.

Among them were Mrs. W. G. Morris, aunt of the bride, in a rich costume of royal velvet and lavender silk; Mrs. evenlng toilet; Colonel Sam Morse and hls lovely young daughter, Julia May, the latter in white organdie and pink trimmings; Mrs. Fritz Cochran was beautiful in white organdie and blue trimmings; Miss Timberlake, of Louisville, in au elegant gown of lavender silk, one of the most stylish costnmes. # HANDKERCHIEFS

Initial Handkerchiefs have a certain usefulness for us all they are a safeguard against loss. This lot of Men's Japonette Handkerchiefs have handsomely embroidered silk initials, while the material feels and looks like lustreless silk and is daintily hemstitched. You will find them novel-different, delightfully new in ideas and attractiveness. Not only that, but astonishingly cheap. They are marked at 15c. Friday we will sell three for 25c. Anybody who doesn't put a valuation twice as much as our price on these Handkerchiefs must have a very miserly conception of the value of labor and materials.

PROTECT THE QUAIL.

Move in Central Kentucky Among Farmers and Sportsmen to Stop Hunting Partridges Until Next Year.

WINCHESTER, Ky., October 19.-A movement has been started here which will deprive the local nimrods of their favorite sport for one year, and if the agreements now in circulation in other counties find as many substantial signers as the one in this county has, there will be little or no quail hunting in old Kentucky until November, 1899.

This effort is one for the protection of partridge, which have been growing scarcer and scarcer in the Bluegrass counties until there is little of this popular game for milord's game bag, when he has aparticularly lucky day in the field and

Realizing the rapid extermination of the birds, and hoping to prevent this, a number of gentlemen in this city and county have drawn up and secured the signatures of the leading farmers and sportsmen of the county to the following bron-clad agreement:

In view of the fact that partridges are becoming very scarce in Clark County, Ky., and in order to give the few that remain an opportunity to mulliply and forcease in numbers, we, the undersigned citizens of Clark County, Ky., hereby agree not to kill, catch or entrap any partridges on our places, or ou the places of other persons and further agree not to suffer any person or per sons to kill, catch or entrap partridges on our places, until after November 15, 1899. This agreemeut holds good both for killfug ourselves or suffering others to kill on our places until after November 15, 1899.

To this are appended the names of 186 hunters and landowners, and probably

It is understood that leading spirits in two or three nearby counties will also obligate themselves not to hunt or allow to be hunted quail in accordance with a similar contract, and the movement will spread to several other popular hunting grounds in different sections of the State
